COMMITTEES REPORT WORK DONE FOR DEMONSTRATION

Meeting of Fourth of July Committees Held Last Night.

FINE FIREWORKS DISPLAY

Citizens Asked to Join and Give What They Otherwise Would for Private Enjoyment.

Plans were discussed and reports made by various committees on the proposed Fourth of July demonstration to be held in Charleroi this year, at a meeting last night. The meeting was presided over by J. J. Hott, chairman of the executive committee, and E. W. Hastings acted as secretary.

R. H. Rush, chairman of the finance committee, made a report of the amount necessary to carry out the plans and outlined the plan of procedure to collect the money, as stated in another column of the Mail.

J. J. Hott, chairman of the sports committee, made a brief report stating that he had a letter from the Wright Bros, in reference to the exhibition of an aeroplane, but their price was too high. Mr. Hott said that he was going to have a flying machine, however, if he had to attach wings to his automobile.

A. P. Stewart, chairman of the fireworks committee, reported that he had made arangements to have fireworks set off from a barge on the river, which will be anchored about 100 feet out from shore and facing the ball park, where people could see to the best advantage. The amount of money alloted for the display will give the public something fine in the way of fireworks, he said, but a suggestion was made that those accustomed to having displays at home on the Fourth meet the committee and donate the amount usually spent on such displays to the general fund. In this way a much more elaborate display could be made. If the order is large enough the manufacturer of the fireworks will send an expert operator to handle the setting off of the display.

James G. Pentz, chairman of the invitation and reception committee, reported that John Mitchell had been invited to come as the principal speaker. He also stated that Judge J. A. McIlvaine and Judge J. F. Taylor of this county would be invited to come and make addresses.

The printing committee was instructed to get busy with their work and properly annnounce the coming event. A meeting of the various committees will be held every Tuesday evening at the burgess' office. It is desired that every committee chairman, and as many members of each committee as possible, should attend these meetings as well as any citizen interested in the proposed celebration.

CENSUS WORK PROCEEEDING WELL ALONG

Enumerators Make Reports to Supervisor's Office Every Day

The work of taking the census is going well along in this district, and little trouble is being encountered generally. Reports are made daily to Census Supervisor Charles O. Frye. A few funny instances are reported by the enumerators, some of them being on the questions of the ages of inidviduals. One of the enumerators here yesterday stated that he asked a woman her age and she replied "about 40." As a rule in the towns the enumerators find that word has preceded them, when they begin work on certain streets.

RIVERS AND HARBORS BILL PASSES SENATE WITH FEW DISSENTING VOTES

Carries Total Appropriation of $52,500,000 for Improvements on tne Various Waterways.

CONTAINS SNUG SUM FOR CANALIZING THE OHIO RIVER

With but few dissenting votes the Rivers and Harbors bill passed the United States Senate yesterday. It carries a total appropriation of $52,500,000 and is of vital importance to this community, carrrying as it does appropriations for beginning the systematic canalizing of the Ohio river, for which Congressman J. K. Toner, who is a member of the rivers committee, so earnestly labored.

As the bill passed the Senate it retains the provision declaring in favor of the completion of the canalization of the Ohio river from Pittsburg to Cairo within 12 years. In furtherance of the project a cash appropriation of $1,150,000 is made and the Secretary of War is authorized to enter into contracts to the extent of $3,500,000. In addition $550,000 is allowed for maintenance and $125,000 is appropriated for completing work on locks and dams Nos. 2, 3, 4, 5, 8 and 11.

Provision is made for slack watering the Youghiogheny River from McKeesport to West Newton and $100,000 is appropriated towards the work. For repair and reconstruction of dam No. 3 on the Allegheny River $48,233 is allowed, and $48,000 for completing reconstruction of lock and dam No. 2 on the Monongahela; $5,000 is appropriated for maintenance of the Pittsburg harbor and a like sum for open channel work on the Allegheny.

Italian Cast Will Reproduce "Passion Play" Here Tuesday

"The Passion Play," called in Italian, "The Redemption of Adam," will be produced by an all-Italian cast under the direction of a professional director at the Turner Hall, Charleroi, on Tuesday evening, April 26. The cast will be composed of Sicilians of Monessen who are said to have especial talent in dramatics. The play is tragedy in a prologue and three acts, and 50 people are in the cast.

Will Hold Revival Services Next Week

Rev. C. S. Joshua, pastor of the First Baptist church, will begin revival services in the church on next Sunday evening, the meetings to continue for a week or ten days. Rev. Engineer Led an Irresponsible Life According to the Observer

Body of Late Marianna Resident Taken to Home in Morgantown by His Son, Who Knew Facts.

In an investigation of the death of D. E. Kuhns, late chief engineer for the Pittsburg-Buffalo company at Marianna, the coroner found that the dead man had been living a double life for the past two years, says the Washintgon Observer. It was found that the woman with whom Kuhns was living at Marianna, and who was known as Mrs. Kuhns, and was introduced as such, was not married to him. None of the Pittsburg Buffalo officials, not even Superintendent Crawford, at Marianna knew that the woman with whom the chief engineer was living was not his wife.

After being closely questioned on Saturday the woman acknowledged that she was not the wife of Mr. Kuhns. She first claimed that she had been married to Kuhns at Fairmont, W. Va., but finally admitted that she was not married and so relinquished all claim to his estate.

The story of Kuhns' life the past two years is this: Two years ago he left his wife and family at Uniontown, where they are still living. He said he was going to Birmingham, Ala., and that as soon as he was located there he would send for them. Since that time the family, except a son, had not known where the husband and father was. It seems that Kuhns, after leaving Uniontown, went to Morgantown, where he secured employment, and where he was living at Marianna. She was a Miss Cline and had lived at Uniontown.

From Morgantown the couple went to Marianna, where Kuhns was employed as an engineer. There they furnished a home and were living without anyone suspecting they were not married. Several months ago it is said, a son, who lives at Uniontown, got word that his father was at Marianna, and living with another woman. The son made a quiet trip to Marianna and made an investigation, but did not tell any one. He found out that what he had heard was true. He did not tell his mother, or anyone, but kept the matter to himself.

Friday when he heard that his father had been killed, he had to tell the story, and went to Marianna to claim the body. His claim opened the story of the life of Kuhns for the past two years. Proving his claim for the body, the son was permitted to take it to Uniontwon, where it was interred. Kuhns carried $2,000 life insurance. The coroner took charge of the papers of the man, after the story as above set forth came to light.

Congressman John Dalzell Asks Appropriation of $50,000 for Memorial

Representative Dalzell appeared before the House Committee on Library in Congress yesterday to urge favorable action upon his bill appropriating $50,000 for a monument to be built at Braddock, Pa., in commemoration of the battle of the Monongahela, where Braddock fell. Mr. Dalzell read an historical article written by Rev. G. E. Hawes, secretary of the Braddock Monument Association, and supplemented this with an agrument for a favorable report on the bill.

SYSTEMATIC COLLECTION TO BE MADE

Business Men Are Classified and Assessments Are Levied

With a view of getting $1,500 or $2,000 for the Fourth of July demonstration planned by Charleroi citizens, the finance committee, consisting of R. H. Rush, K. W. Daly, E. W. Hastings, W. R. Gaut and Burgess George W. Risbeck, has formulated a systematic plan which will be carried into effect in the collection of the money. The expenses of the proposed celebration will be large, and it would be burdesome for a few of the business men and merchants to bear the brunt of the cost, as in the past at similar celebrations, so the committee has arranged that all will be assessed more equally.

There will be no business houses, according to Chairman R. H. Rush of the committee, with the possible exception of a very few, which will be asked to contribute more than $5.00. These places will be the ones which will be espcially benefited in a business way from the celebration. The remainder of the business houses will be asked for sums ranging down to $2.50. After the merchants and business men have all given according to their classification, indivdual contributions will be taken up.

The merchants of the entire town have been classified and grouped, the grocerymen in one group, the dry goods people in another, and so on. They are assessed as it is thought most proper and the amount per capita is less than usual. The committee is not intending to make any exhaustive canvass of town, but will take the business houses as they are grouped. The people are asked to be ready and pay the amount assessed promptly when approached by some member of the committee, as only in this way can Charleroi have a big celebration.

County Fair Next Week

The County Fair, a humorous and interesting playlet, will be produced at Turner Hall Thursday and Friday evenings of next week April, 28 and 29, for the benefit of the Episcopal Guild. More particulars will be given later.

Final Agreement Fntered into by Vesta Miners and Officials.

MEETING THIS MORNING

Superintendent R. B. Drum Attends—Black Powder Question the Issue.

A meeting of about 1,000 miners employed in the Vesta No. 3 and No. 4 mines was held at California this morning, and as a result the miners employed in both mines will go to work Thursday morning, and anticipate no further trouble. The Vesta miners have returned to work several times, and day men have been working nearly every day for two weeks, but not knowing from one day to the next the final outcome.

Last night a meeting of miners was held at Coal Center, and one at Daisytown. Each body wanted to learn the action taken by the other, however, and action was postponed until this morning, when a mass meeting was called for all employes of the two mines.

The Cincinnati scale was agreed upon and signed, conditionally, however. The mine officials agree to use black powder for two years in the Vesta mines providing the State Legislature does not by a law compel a change. In that event the miners will be granted the privilege of using whatever new explosive is recommended on the same basis and for the same price that they use black powder.

Superintendent R. B. Drum of the Vesta mines was present at this morning's meeting, and stated that it was his purpose to have the mines opened up, and continued in steady operations, and that if the miners were not willing to come to terms he would demand the company houses to be vacated so that he could get other workers. The settlement was regarded as fair by all.

While practically the same agreement has been reached before by Vesta officials and the miners, there have been several misunderstandings and as the result of an agitator among the foreigners, it is stated, work had been discontinued to be resume later by the miners. At one time, egged on, it is claimed by the agitator, the foreigners barricaded the opening of the mine and prevented American workmen from entering. The meeting this morning was attended by both foreigners and Americans and the result seemed satisfactory to both.

OF CHARLEROI

Subject to the Decision of the Republican Voters of the Twenty-Fourth District at the Primaries June 4

Let Everybody Help.

Having decided to hold a Fourth of July celebraiton in Charleroi, the next question is how to furnish the sinews of war. This duty devolves upon a finance committee, which has adopted a different plan for the collection of funds than the one usually pursued. This is to ask all the business places of the town big and little, to contribute pro rata as their interest seem to warrant, to the amount that will be necessary to pull off the demonstration.

This proposition is eminently fair to all concerned. Heretofore when funds have been collected for a public purpose, collectors have made a promiscuous canvass and secured what they could. The result has always been that forty or fifty of the leading business concerns of the town have borne the brunt of the whole affair, which in some instances has proven burdensome. This time the finance committee will make an apportionment among all the business places of the town, which will make the amount allotted to each exceedingly moderate. In this manner a suffiient fund can readily be secured for the demonstration, which being a public benefaction should be supported by all the business interests of the town. The committee in charge will give a careful accounting of all money collected and expended and everything will be conducted open and above board.

On the ready response to this plan will depend the success of the demonstration. If it does not meet with general apporval, the movement may be called off. It is too great a burden for a few to carry out, and unless there is a hearty and general response the few business interests that have hitherto financed public affairs will not be asked to go it alone in this instance. Let everbyody co-operate, and the celebration will go down in history as an epoch in the progess and development of Charleroi.

Marks an Epoch.

The passage by the United States Senate of the Rivers and Harbors bill with even more liberal allowance for the improvement of the internal water-ways than the House bill provided, is cheering news for this section. It is expected that the bill will be finally passed without any material charges.

The beginning of the canalizing of the Ohio river to be systematically carried through to a finish, marks an epoch for this section, as well as the development of our internal waterways. It is too soon yet to dwell upon the innumerable benefits this work will confer upon the country, but coming as it does with the construction of the Panama canal and other mammoth industrial developments, not only in this but in foreign countries, an era of prosperity can be imagined for this country, the like of which has not yet been realized or even dreamed. Anything that places us in closer communication and touch with the world's progress is bound to add to the prosperity of the United States.

Lest We Forget.

When former Congressman E. F. Acheson makes a howl through the Washington Observer over political appointments which he avers were given to former Democrats and the "claims of lifelong Republican ignored," he apparently forgets his own record in that respect when he was political dictator of Washington county. The public has not forgotten how that political genus, "Acheson Democrats," developed and thrived under his regime, and how they were taken care of politically. It was nothing in those days for a life-long Republican to be turned down to reward a professed Democrat for political services performed for Mr. Acheson, and that was one of the accumulated grievances that turned the tide against him so overwhelmingly when the first opportunity of a popular vote at the nominating convention was presented. Some of his postoffice appointments in that respect are matters of county political history.

In the campaign of 1905, when Mr. Acheson was county chairman, he appointed W. H. Farrell, superintendent of the Donora steel mills, on his executive committee. Mr. Farrell had publicly announced that he was a "Tammany Democrat" and as such had been elected to a local office in Donora. It was the solid vote of the Donora mills that saved Mr. Acheson's ticket from defeat that year, but Mr. Farrell never changed his politics, so far as any one knows. Mr. Acheson's solicitude on the score of party rewards is humorous, to say the least.

A Cheerful Letter.

The following was sent by a country man to his son in college not many years ago:

My Dear Son—I write to send you two pair of old breeches, that you may have a new coat made of them; also some new socks, which your mother knit by cutting down some of mine. Your mother sends you $10 without my knowledge, and for fear you will not spend it wisely I have kept back half and only send five. Your mother and I are well, except your sister Annie has got the measles, which we think would spread among other girls if Tom had not had them before, and he is the only one left. I hope you are well and will do honor to my teachings. If you do not you are an ass, and your mother and myself are your affectionate parents.

"So you think every patriot has a more or less clearly defined ambition to hold public office?"

"Yes," answered Senator Sorghum. "As a rule, patriots may be divided into two classes—the appointed and the disappointed."—Washington Star.

The Greatest Wealth.

Is there any compensation in money for a starved, stunted, dwarfed mind? Can lands and houses, stocks and bonds, pay a man for living a narrow, rutty, sordid life? How much money would match the wealth of a trained mind, of unfolded possibilities? Is the capacity for the appreciation of the meaning of life, of the lessons of civilization, worth no more than one's bread and butter and roof? Can any one conceive of greater possessions than an intellect well trained and disciplined, than a broad, deep, full orbed mind responsive to all beauty, all good?—Orison Swett Marden in Success Magazine.

Odd Death Certificates.

Certificates of death are not documents where one usually seeks for humor, but there is frequently to be found in them much of the unconscious variety. Here, for instance, is how the cause of death is stated in the case of a laborer:

"Died from injuries received through a bull accidentally kneeling on his chest."

The consideration shown for the feelings of the bull is a fine touch and suggests grave questions on the moral responsibility of the lower animals.

Again, a man is stated to have "died from the effects of injuries received after being run over by a railway train in motion owing to a misunderstanding between deceased and an engine driver." This description of a rather ordinary railway casualty is excellent.—London Express.

The Word "Person."

General Benjamin F. Butler, it is said, once asserted that a woman was not a "person," and a London suffragette insists that the word "person" in its legal sense includes woman. The word has had an interesting history. Signifying by etymology something to make a sound through, the Latin "persona" began by meaning an actor's mask with its mouthpiece. Then it meant the character represented by the player—"dramatis personae." Then it came to mean the part or character one sustains in real life, and so the "persona ecclesiae," the man who represented the church, became known as a "person" in a special sense and was eventually spelled as "parson." On the other hand, "person" faded away to mean just anybody. And so, though a woman naturally resents being referred to as a "person" in ordinary talk, many women no less naturally desire to count as "persons" in the eye of the franchise law.—Chicago News.

Olden Tea Table Etiquette.

Tea table etiquette was somewhat complicated in the days of that "hardened and shameless tea drinker," Dr. Johnson, when many people thought nothing of drinking ten or twelve cups at a sitting. It was considered proper for the cups and saucers of a party of tea drinkers to be all passed up to the hostess in one batch when replenishment was considered necessary, and in order that each person might be sure of getting back the right cup the teaspoons were numbered. When the cups were passed up those who did not require any more were supposed to place the spoon in the cup. And this writer remembers a very ancient dame teaching a small boy to place his spoon in his cup after the first cup had been emptied. He wondered for the reason. Now he knows that tea was once very expensive, and little boys were not expected to ask again.—St. James' Gazette.

Balancing an Egg.

All the world knows how Columbus on a historic occasion made an egg stand on end. After many learned theories had been advanced on balancing the egg he set the egg on end by, of course, mashing down hard enough to form a base, but the problem is capable of still another solution. It is an easy matter to set an egg on a plate, for instance, if you know how. The trick is impossible until the egg has been boiled in an upright position. The position of the hardened yoke at the end of the shell lowers the center of gravity until the sphere can be spun or even balanced with ease.

Weight of Brain.

The average weight of the human brain is forty-nine and a half ounces avoirdupois for males and forty-four ounces for females. In males the minimum weight is about thirty-four ounces and the maximum sixty-five ounces. In females the minimum weight is thirty-one ounces and the maximum fifty-six. In newborn infants the brain weighs about 11.65 ounces for the male and ten ounces for the female.

What Became of the "King of Rome."

What became of Napoleon's son is a question often asked, as little mention is made in history of the young prince, the desire of his father's life, who was born March 20, 1811, amid great rejoicing in Paris and hailed as the "king of Rome." In January, 1814, Napoleon embraced his wife and child for the last time, and this really ended the reign of the little king "who never saw his kingdom." He was reared in the Austrian court under the name of the Duke of Reichstadt and grew to be a handsome young fellow and quite a brilliant scholar. He had one short year of military life and then contracted pulmonary disease, from which he died in his twenty-second year. He worshiped the memory of his father and always spent the anniversary of his death, July 22, in his own rooms. He is buried in the Carthusian monastery of Vienna, which is the Austrian Westminster abbey.

Marlborough House.

Marlborough House is one of the numerous buildings of Sir Christopher Wren. It was built at a cost of £44,000, the whole of which was defrayed by the duke. Here the great duchess lived till her death in 1744, waging an incessant warfare upon the society of her time. Here, too, she received a deputation of the lord mayor and sheriffs of London while still in bed, an incident which was satirized by Gay:

Acquainted with the world and quite well bred,
Drusa receives her visitants in bed.

In the earlier years of the nineteenth century Marlborough House was rented by Leopold, king of the Belgians. It was afterward bestowed by the crown upon Queen Adelaide, the dowager of William IV.—London Chronicle.

She Was Slow.

The shop assistant had shown and reshown the toys to the undecided shopper.

Rabbits, monkeys, jacks-in-the-box, jumping jacks, trains, velocipedes—everything had been displayed, manipulated, operated and explained to the shopper, but still she could not make up her mind.

"I wanted to get something suitable for my little nephew," she reiterated for the thousandth time.

"Yes, madam," responded the weary assistant. "You told me that when you came in, but I think your nephew has outgrown all these toys while you have been at this counter."—London Opinion.

He Was Not Superstitious.

A captain of an ocean liner tells the following story: Coming from the old country was a very nervous old lady who complained that she was sure there was a rat in her stateroom.

"Keep it there, madam," said the captain.

"But do you like rats?" asked she.

"I've got a nest in my cabin," retorted the brusque seaman, "and I never disturb them. When they leave the ship I do."

"Why, you must be superstitious," urged the dame.

"No, ma'am," wound up the captain, "I'm not, but the rats are."

A Queen's Critical Brother.

Marie Antoinette's brother Joseph could not bear the rouge pot, and one evening when the queen was going out, being heavily rouged, the emperor was looking on. Pointing to a lady present who was excessively bedaubed with paint, Joseph remarked facetiously: "A little more under the eyes! Lay on the rouge like fury, as that lady does!"—Hassard's "Louis XVI."

Practice.

New Clerk—I should like two weeks' vacation, sir. Boss—What! Why, this is only your first week with us. New Clerk—Yes, sir, but once I get accustomed to the position I may be able to stand it longer.

A Test of Friendship.

Just before Artemus Ward's death Robertson poured out some medicine and offered it to the sick man, who said, "My dear Tom, I won't take any more of that horrible stuff."

Robertson urged him to swallow the mixture, saying: "Do, now—there's a dear fellow—for my sake. You know I would do anything for you."

"Would you?" said Ward feebly, grasping his friend's hand for the last time.

"I would indeed," said Robertson.

"Then you take it."

Ward passed away a few hours afterward.—"Recollections of the Bancrofts."

Well Trained.

A farmer, finding a motor horn in the road, took it home, determined to turn it to some use. So he taught his poultry to gather for meals at its toot and all nature may be said to have smiled till one morning a motor car passing the farmyard blew a loud blast. The full strength of the poultry yard instantly ran out into the road and began to pursue the car with all the ardor of railway travelers charging into the refreshment room. At the end of the fifth mile fourteen pullets and three roosters succumbed through exhaustion. The rest are still running.—English Paper.

Child's Allowance.

To encourage children to save money give them as many pennies each week as they are years old and allow them to save it. When each has saved $5 put it in a bank and add to it each year. It is a very little beginning, but children with money in a real bank are very desirous of adding more to it. By the time the little folks are grown there will be a good bank account, which will be helpful during college days.

Do farmers eat the proper sort of food?

The farmer of today buys a much larger proportion of the food that goes on the table than he did ten years ago It's a good thing that this is so because he has a great variety to select from. He should, however, use great care in selecting for the best results in health and strength.

The widespread tendency in the city to increase the amount of Quaker Oats eaten is due very largely to the recent demonstrations by scientific men that the Quaker Oats fed man is the man with greatest physical endurance and greatest mental vigor.

Farmers should give this subject careful thought and should increase the quantity of Quaker Oats eaten by themselves, their children and the farm hands.

The regular size 10c package is not as convenient for the farmer as the large size family package at 25c. 57

The Value of Tact.

A tactful person can make a whole roomful of people feel happy by conveying to them individually a tacit recognition of their individual accomplishments. To tell a shy girl that she is charming is to transform her and make her exercise her charm. To tell a dispirited man that he is courageous and clever is to put into him such an infusion of strength that he will be on the highroad to success.—Woman's Life.

FOR YOUR HAIR

Here Are Facts We Want You to Prove at Our Own Risk.

Marvelous as it may seem, Rexall "93" Hair Tonic has grown hair on heads that were once bald. Of course it is understood that in none of these cases were the hair roots dead nor had the scalp taken on a glazed, shiny appearance.

When the roots of the hair are entirely dead and the pores of the scalp are glazed over, we do not believe that anything can restore hair growth. When Rexall "93" Hair Tonic will do as above stated, it is not strange that we have such great faith in it, and that we claim it will prevent balness when used in time. It acts scientifically, destroying the germs which are usually responsible for baldness. It penetrates to the roots of the hair, stimulating and nourishing them. It is a most pleasant toilet necssity, is delicately perfumed and will not gum nor permanently stain the hair.

We want you to get a bottle of Rexall "93" Hair Tonic and use it as directed. If it does not relieve scalp irritation, remove dandruff, prevent the hair from falling out and promote an increased growth of hair and in every way give entire satisfaction, simply come back and tell us and without question or formality we will hand back to you every penny you paid us for it.

We lend our endorsement to Rexall "93" Hair Tonic and sell it on this guarantee, because we believe it is the best hair tonic ever discovered. It comes in two sizes, prices 50 cents and $1.00. Remember you can obtain it only at our store—The Rexall Store. John W. Carroll.

To Entertain a Bride.

There were busy times in a certain home, in a certain well known town. COMMITTEES REPORT WORK DONE FOR DEMONSTRATION

Meeting of Fourth of July Committees Held Last Night.

FINE FIREWORKS DISPLAY

Citizens Asked to Join and Give What They Otherwise Would for Private Enjoyment.

Plans were discussed and reports made by various committees on the proposed Fourth of July demonstration to be held in Charleroi this year, at a meeting last night. The meeting was presided over by J. J. Hott, chairman of the executive committee, and E. W. Hastings acted as secretary.

R. H. Rush, chairman of the finance committee, made a report of the amount necessary to carry out the plans and outlined the plan of procedure to collect the money, as stated in another column of the Mail.

J. J. Hott, chairman of the sports committee, made a brief report stating that he had a letter from the Wright Bros, in reference to the exhibition of an aeroplane, but their price was too high Mr. Hott said that he was going to have a flying machine, however, if he had to attach wings to his automobile.

A. P. Stewart, chairman of the fireworks committee, reported that he had made arangements to have fireworks set off from a barge on the river, which will be anchored about 100 feet out from shore and facing the ball park, where people could see to the best advantage. The amount of money alloted for the display will give the public something fine in the way of fireworks, he said, but a suggestion was made that those accustomed to having displays at home on the Fourth meet the committee and donate the amount usually spent on such displays to the general fund. In this way a much more elaborate display could be made. If the order is large enough the manufacturer of the fireworks will send an expert operator to handle the setting off of the display.

James G. Pentz, chairman of the invitation and reception committee, reported that John Mitchell had been invited to come as the principal speaker. He also stated that Judge J. A. McIlvaine and Judge J. F. Taylor of this county would be invited to come and make addresses.

The printing committee was instructed to get busy with their work and properly announce the coming event. A meeting of the various committees will be held every Tuesday evening at the burgess' office. It is desired that every committee chairman, and as many members of each committee as possible, should attend these meetings as well as any citizen interested in the proposed celebration.

CENSUS WORK PROCEEDING WELL ALONG

Enumerators Make Reports to Supervisor's Office Every Day

The work of taking the census is going well along in this district, and little trouble is being encountered generally. Reports are made daily to Census Supervisor Charles O. Frye. A few funny instances are reported by the enumerators, some of them being on the questions of the ages of individuals. One of the enumerators here yesterday stated that he asked a woman her age and she replied "about 40." As a rule in the towns the enumerators find that word has preceded them, when they begin work on certain streets.

RIVERS AND HARBORS BILL PASSES SENATE WITH FEW DISSENTING VOTES

Carries Total Appropriation of $52,500,000 for Improvements on tne Various Waterways.

CONTAINS SNUG SUM FOR CANALIZING THE OHIO RIVER

With but few dissenting votes the Rivers and Harbors bill passed the United States Senate yesterday. It carries a total appropriation of $52,500,000 and is of vital importance to this community, carrrying as it does appropriations for beginning the systematic canalizing of the Ohio river, for which Congressman J. K. Tener, who is a member of the rivers committee, so earnestly labored.

As the bill passed the Senate it retains the provision declaring in favor of the completion of the canalization of the Ohio river from Pittsburg to Cairo within 12 years. In furtherance of the project a cash appropriation of $1,150,000 is made and the Secretary of War is authorized to enter into contracts to the extent of $8,500,000. In addition $550,000 is allowed for maintenance and $125,000 is appropriated for completing work on locks and dams Nos. 2, 3, 4, 5, 8 and 11.

Provision is made for slack watering the Youghiogheny River from McKeesport to West Newton and $100,000 is appropriated towards the work. For repair and reconstruction of dam No. 3 on the Allegheny River $48,283 is allowed, and $43,000 for completing reconstruction of lock and dam No. 2 on the Monongahela, $5,000 is appropriated for maintenance of the Pittsburg harbor and a like sum for open channel work on the Allegheny.

Engineer Led an Irresponsible Life According to the Observer

Body of Late Marianna Resident Taken to Home in Morgantown by His Son, Who Knew Facts.

In an investigation of the death of D. E. Kuhns, late chief engineer for the Pittsburg-Buffalo company at Marianna, the coroner found that the dead man had been living a double life for the past two years, says the Washintgon Observer. It was found that the woman with whom Kuhns was living at Marianna, and who was known as Mrs. Kuhns, and was introduced as such, was not married to him. None of the Pittsburg Buffalo officials, not even Superintendent Crawford, at Marianna knew that the woman with whom the chief engineer was living was not his wife.

After being closely questioned on Saturday the woman acknowledged that she was not the wife of Mr. Kuhns. She first claimed that she had been married to Kuhns at Fairmont, W. Va, but finally admitted that she was not married and so relinquished all claim to his estate.

The story of Kuhns' life the past two years is this: Two years ago he left his wife and family at Uniontown, where they are still living. He said he was going to Birmingham, Ala., and that as soon as he was located there he would send for them. Since that time the family, except a son, had not known where the husband and father was. It seems that Kuhns, after leaving Uniontown, went to Morgantown, where he secured employment, and where he was living at Marianna. She was a Miss Cline and had lived at Uniontown.

From Morgantown the couple went to Marianna, where Kuhns was employed as an engineer. There they furnished a home and were living without anyone suspecting they were not married. Several months ago it is said, a son, who lives at Uniontown, got word that his father was at Marianna, and living with another woman. The son made a quiet trip to Marianna and made an investigation, but did not tell any one. He found out that what he had heard was true. He did not tell his mother, or anyone, but kept the matter to himself.

Friday when he heard that his father had been killed, he had to tell the story, and went to Marianna to claim the body. His claim opened the story of the life of Kuhns for the past two years. Proving his claim for the body, the son was permitted to take it to Uniontwon, where it was interred. Kuhns carried $2,000 life insurance. The coroner took charge of the papers of the man, after the story as above set forth came to light.

Presents Bill for Braddock Monument

Congressman John Dalzell Asks Appropriation of $50,000 for Memorial

Representative Dalzell appeared before the House Committee on Library in Congress yesterday to urge favorable action upon his bill appropriating $50,000 for a monument to be built at Braddock, Pa., in commemoration of the battle of the Monongahela, where Braddock fell. Mr. Dalzell read an historical article written by Rev. G. E. Hawes, secretary of the Braddock Monument Association, and supplemented this with an agrument for a favorable report on the bill.

SYSTEMATIC COLLECTION TO BE MADE

Business Men Are Classified and Assessments Are Levied

With a view of getting $1,500 or $2,000 for the Fourth of July demonstration planned by Charleroi citizens, the finance committee, consisting of R. H. Rush, K. W. Daly, E. W. Hastings, W. R. Gaut and Burgess George W. Risbeck, has formulated a systematic plan which will be carried into effect in the collection of the money. The expenses of the proposed celebration will be large, and it would be burdesome for a few of the business men and merchants to bear the brunt of the cost, as in the past at similar celebrations, so the committee has arranged that all will be assessed more equally.

There will be no business houses, according to Chairman R. H. Rush of the committee, with the possible exception of a very few, which will be asked to contribute more than $5.00. These places will be the ones which will be especially benefited in a business way from the celebration. The remainder of the business houses will be asked for sums ranging down to $2.50. After the merchants and business men have all given according to their classification, individual contributions will be taken up.

The merchants of the entire town have been classified and grouped, the grocerymen in one group, the dry goods people in another, and so on. They are assessed as it is thought most proper and the amount per capita is less than usual. The committee is not intending to make any exhaustive canvass of town, but will take the business houses as they are grouped. The people are asked to be ready and pay the amount assessed promptly when approached by some member of the committee, as only in this way can Charleroi have a big celebration.

County Fair Next Week

The County Fair, a humorous and interesting playlet, will be produced at Turner Hall Thursday and Friday evenings of next week April, 28 and 29, for the benefit of the Episcopal Guild. More particulars will be given later.

Final Agreement Fntered into by Vesta Miners and Officials.

MEETING THIS MORNING

Superintendent R. B. Drum Attends—Black Powder Question the Issue.

A meeitng of about 1,000 miners employed in the Vesta No. 8 and No. 4 mines was held at California this morning, and as a result the miners employed in both mines will go to work Thursday morning, and anticipate no further trouble. The Vesta miners have returned to work several times, and day men have been working nearly every day for two weeks, but not knowing from one day to the next the final outcome.

Last night a meeting of miners was held at Coal Center, and one at Daisytown. Each body wanted to learn the action taken by the other, however, and action was postponed until this morning, when a mass meeting was called for all employes of the two mines.

The Cincinnati scale was agreed upon and signed, conditionally, however. The mine officials agree to use black powder for two years in the Vesta mines providing the State Legislature does not by a law compel a change. In that event the miners will be granted the privilege of using whatever new explosive is recommended on the same basis and for the same price that they use black powder.

Superintendent R. B. Drum of the Vesta mines was present at this morning's meeting, and stated that it was his purpose to have the mines opened up, and continued in steady operations, and that if the miners were not willing to come to terms he would demand the company houses to be vacated so that he could get other workers. The settlement was regarded as fair by all.

While practically the same agreement has been reached before by Vesta officials and the miners, there have been several misunderstandings and as the result of an agitator among the foreigners, it is stated, work had been discontinued to be resume later by the miners. At one time, egged on, it is claimed by the agitator, the foreigners barricaded the opening of the mine and prevented American workmen from entering. The meeting this morning was attended by both foreigners and Americans and the result seemed satisfactory to both.

FOR CONGRESS

JOHN K. TENER

OF CHARLEROI

Subject to the Decision of the Republican Voters of the Twenty-Fourth District at the Primaries June 4

Let Everybody Help.

Having decided to hold a Fourth of July celebraiton in Charleroi, the next question is how to furnish the sinews of war. This duty devolves upon a finance committee, which has adopted a different plan for the collection of funds than the one usually pursued. This is to ask all the business places of the town big and little, to contribute pro rata as their interest seem to warrant, to the amount that will be necessary to pull off the demonstration.

This proposition is eminently fair to all concerned. Heretofore when funds have been collected for a public purpose, collectors have made a promiscuous canvass and secured what they could. The result has always been that forty or fifty of the leading business concerns of the town have borne the brunt of the whole affair, which in some instances has proven burdensome. This time the finance committee will make an apportionment among all the business places of the town, which will make the amount allotted to each exceedingly moderate. In this manner a suffilent fund can readily be secured for the demonstration, which being a public benefaction should be supported by all the business interests of the town. The committee in charge will give a careful accounting of all money collected and expended and everything will be conducted open and above board.

On the ready response to this plan will depend the success of the demonstration. If it does not meet with general apporval, the movement may be called off. It is too great a burden for a few to carry out, and unless there is a hearty and general response the few business interests that have hitherto financed public affairs will not be asked to go it alone in this instance. Let everbyody co-operate, and the celebration will go down in history as an epoch in the progess and development of Charleroi.

Marks an Epoch.

The passage by the United States Senate of the Rivers and Harbors bill with even more liberal allowance for the improvement of the internal waterways than the House bill provided, is cheering news for this section. It is expected that the bill will be finally passed without any material charges.

The beginning of the canalizing of the Ohio river to be systematically carried through to a finish, marks an epoch for this section, as well as the development of our internal waterways. It is too soon yet to dwell upon the innumerable benefits this work will confer upon the country, but coming as it does with the construction of the Panama canal and other mammoth industrial developments, not only in this but in foreign countries, an era of prosperity can be imagined for this country, the like of which has not yet been realized or even dreamed. Anything that places us in closer communication and touch with the world's progress is bound to add to the prosperity of the United States.

Lest We Forget.

When former Congressman E. F. Acheson makes a howl through the Washington Observer over political appointments which he avers were given to former Democrats and the "claims of lifelong Republican ignored," he apparently forgets his own record in that respect when he was political dictator of Washicgton county. The public has not forgotten how that political genus, "Acheson Democrats," developed and thrived under his regime, and how they were taken care of politically. It was nothing in those days for a life-long Republican to be turned down to reward a professed Democrat for political services performed for Mr. Acheson, and that was one of the accumulated grievances that turned the tide against him so overwhelmingly when the first opportunity of a popular vote at the nominating convention was presented. Some of his postoffice appointments in that respect are matters of county political history.

In the campaign of 1905, when Mr. Acheson was county chairman, he appointed W. H. Farrell, superintendent of the Donora steel mills, on his executive committee. Mr. Farrell had publicly announced that he was a "Tammany Democrat" and as such had been elected to a local office in Donora. It was the solid vote of the Donora mills that saved Mr. Acheson's ticket from defeat that year, but Mr. Farrell never changed his politics, so far as any one knows. Mr. Acheson's solicitude on the score of party rewards is humorous, to say the least.

A Cheerful Letter.

The following was sent by a country man to his son in college not many years ago:

My Dear Son—I write to send you two pair of old breeches, that you may have a new coat made of them; also some new socks, which your mother knit by cutting down some of mine. Your mother sends you $10 without my knowledge, and for fear you will not spend it wisely I have kept back half and only send five. Your mother and I are well, except your sister Annie has got the measles, which we think would spread among other girls if Tom had not had them before, and he is the only one left. I hope you are well and will do honor to my teachings. If you do not you are an ass, and your mother and myself are your affectionate parents.

A Nice Bird.

"Do you like a nice bird?" asked the host as they sat down to the table.

"Oh, yes!" responded the guest immediately and enthusiastically.

"You ought to call on my sister," explained the other. "She's got one of the finest canaries you ever saw. Well, what kind of a sandwich do you think you can eat?"—London Telegraph.

An Arbitrary Classification.

"So you think every patriot has a more or less clearly defined ambition to hold public office?"

"Yes," answered Senator Sorghum. "As a rule, patriots may be divided into two classes—the appointed and the disappointed."—Washington Star.

The Greatest Wealth.

Is there any compensation in money for a starved, stunted, dwarfed mind? Can lands and houses, stocks and bonds, pay a man for living a narrow, rutty, sordid life? How much money would match the wealth of a trained mind, of unfolded possibilities? Is the capacity for the appreciation of the meaning of life, of the lessons of civilization, worth no more than one's bread and butter and roof? Can any one conceive of greater possessions than an intellect well trained and disciplined, than a broad, deep, full orbed mind responsive to all beauty, all good?—Orison Swett Marden in Success Magazine.

Odd Death Certificates.

Certificates of death are not documents where one usually seeks for humor, but there is frequently to be found in them much of the unconscious variety. Here, for instance, is how the cause of death is stated in the case of a laborer:

"Died from injuries received through a bull accidentally kneeling on his chest."

The consideration shown for the feelings of the bull is a fine touch and suggests grave questions on the moral responsibility of the lower animals.

Again, a man is stated to have "died from the effects of injuries received after being run over by a railway train in motion owing to a misunderstanding between deceased and an engine driver." This description of a rather ordinary railway casualty is excellent.—London Express.

The Word "Person."

General Benjamin F. Butler, it is said, once asserted that a woman was not a "person," and a London suffragette insists that the word "person" in its legal sense includes woman. The word has had an interesting history. Signifying by etymology something to make a sound through, the Latin "persona" began by meaning an actor's mask with its mouthpiece. Then it meant the character represented by the player—"dramatis personae." Then it came to mean the part or character one sustains in real life, and so the "persona ecclesiae," the man who represented the church, became known as a "person" in a special sense and was eventually spelled as "parson." On the other hand, "person" faded away to mean just anybody. And so, though a woman naturally resents being referred to as a "person" in ordinary talk, many women no less naturally desire to count as "persons" in the eye of the franchise law.—Chicago News.

Olden Tea Table Etiquette.

Tea table etiquette was somewhat complicated in the days of that "hardened and shameless tea drinker," Dr. Johnson, when many people thought nothing of drinking ten or twelve cups at a sitting. It was considered a point for the cups and saucers of a party of tea drinkers to be all passed up to the hostess in one batch when replenishment was considered necessary, and in order that each person might be sure of getting back the right cup the teaspoons were numbered. When the cups were passed up those who did not require any more were supposed to place the spoon in the cup. And this writer remembers a very ancient dame teaching a small boy to place his spoon in his cup after the first cup had been emptied. He wondered for the reason. Now he knows that tea was once very expensive, and little boys were not expected to ask again.—St. James' Gazette.

Balancing an Egg.

All the world knows how Columbus on a historic occasion made an egg stand on end. After many learned theories had been advanced on balancing the egg he set the egg on end by, of course, mashing down hard enough to form a base, but the problem is capable of still another solution. It is an easy matter to set an egg on a plate, for instance, if you know how. The trick is impossible until the egg has been boiled in an upright position. The position of the hardened yoke at the end of the shell lowers the center of gravity until the sphere can be spun or even balanced with ease.

Weight of Brain.

The average weight of the human brain is forty-nine and a half ounces avoirdupois for males and forty-four ounces for females. In males the minimum weight is about thirty-four ounces and the maximum sixty-five ounces. In females the minimum weight is thirty-one ounces and the maximum fifty-six. In newborn infants the brain weighs about 11.65 ounces for the male and ten ounces for the female.

The Value of Tact.

A tactful person can make a whole roomful of people feel happy by conveying to them individually a tacit recognition of their individual accomplishments. To tell a shy girl that she is charming is to transform her and make her exercise her charm. To tell a dispirited man that he is courageous and clever is to put into him such an infusion of strength that he will be on the highroad to success.—Woman's Life.

The King of Rome.

What became of Napoleon's son is a question often asked, as little mention is made in history of the young prince, the desire of his father's life, who was born March 20, 1811, and great re- joicing in Paris and hailed as the "king of Rome." In January, 1814 Napoleon embraced his wife and child for the last time, and this really ended the reign of the little king "who never saw his kingdom." He was reared in the Austrian court under the name of the Duke of Reichstadt and grew to be a handsome young fellow and quite a brilliant scholar. He had one short year of military life and then contracted pulmonary disease, from which he died in his twenty-second year. He worshiped the memory of his father and always spent the anniversary of his death, July 22, in his own rooms. He is buried in the Carthusian monastery of Vienna, which is the Austrian Westminster abbey.

Marlborough House.

Marlborough House is one of the numerous buildings of Sir Christopher Wren. It was built at a cost of £44,000, the whole of which was defrayed by the duke. Here the great duchess lived till her death in 1744, waging an incessant warfare [illegible] her time. Here, too, she received a deputation of the lord mayor and sheriffs of London while still in bed, an incident which was satirized by Gay:

Acquainted with the world and quite well bred
Drusa receives her visitants in bed

In the earlier years of the nineteenth century Marlborough House was rented by Leopold, king of the Belgians. It was afterward bestowed by the crown upon Queen Adelaide, the dowager of William IV.—London Chronicle.

She Was Slow.

The shop assistant had shown and reshown the toys to the undecided shopper.

Rabbits, monkeys, jacks-in-the box, jumping jacks, trains, velocipedes—everything had been displayed, manipulated, operated and explained to the shopper, but still she could not make up her mind.

"I wanted to get something suitable for my little nephew," she reiterated for the thousandth time.

"Yes, madam," responded the weary assistant. "You told me that when you came in, but I think your nephew has outgrown all these toys while you have been at this counter."—London Opinion

He Was Not Superstitious.

A captain of an ocean liner tells the following story: Coming from the old country was a very nervous old lady who complained that she was sure there was a rat in her stateroom.

"Keep it there, madam," said the captain.

"But do you like rats?" asked she.

"I've got a nest in my cabin," retorted the brusque seaman, "and I never disturb them. When they leave the ship I do."

"Why, you must be superstitious," urged the dame.

"No, ma'am," wound up the captain, "I'm not, but the rats are."

A Queen's Critical Brother.

Marie Antoinette's brother Joseph could not bear the rouge pot, and one evening when the queen was going out, being heavily rouged, the emperor was looking on. Pointing to a lady present who was excessively bedaubed with paint, Joseph remarked facetiously: "A little more under the eyes! Lay on the rouge like fury, as that lady does!"—Hassard's "Louis XVI."

A Test of Friendship.

Just before Artemus Ward's death Robertson poured out some medicine and offered it to the sick man, who said, "My dear Tom, I won't take any more of that horrible stuff."

Robertson urged him to swallow the mixture, saying: "Do, now—there's a dear fellow—for my sake. You know I would do anything for you."

"Would you?" said Ward feebly, grasping his friend's hand for the last time.

"I would indeed," said Robertson.

"Then you take it."

Ward passed away a few hours afterward.—"Recollections of the Bancrofts."

Well Trained.

A farmer, finding a motor horn in the road took it home, determined to turn it to some use. So he taught his poultry to gather for meals at its toot and all nature may be said to have smiled till one morning a motor car passing the farmyard blew a loud blast. The full strength of the poultry yard instantly ran out into the road and began to pursue the car with all the ardor of railway travelers charging into the refreshment room. At the end of the fifth mile fourteen pullets and three roosters succumbed through exhaustion. The rest are still running.—English Paper.

Child's Allowance.

To encourage children to save money give them as many pennies each week as they are years old and allow them to save it. When each has saved $5 put it in a bank and add to it each year. It is a very little beginning, but children with money in a real bank are very desirous of adding more to it. By the time the little folks are grown there will be a good bank account, which will be helpful during college days.

Do farmers eat the proper sort of food?

The farmer of today buys a much larger proportion of the food that goes on the table than he did ten years ago. It's a good thing that this is so because he has a great variety to select from. He should, however, use great care in selecting for the best results in health and strength.

The widespread tendency in the city to increase the amount of Quaker Oats eaten is due very largely to the recent demonstrations by scientific men that the Quaker Oats fed man is the man with greatest physical endurance and greatest mental vigor.

Farmers should give this subject careful thought and should increase the quantity of Quaker Oats eaten by themselves, their children and the farm hands.

The regular size 10c package is not as convenient for the farmer as the large size family package at 25c. 57

FOR YOUR HAIR

Here Are Facts We Want You to Prove at Our Own Risk.

Marvelous as it may seem, Rexall "93" Hair Tonic has grown hair on heads that were once bald. Of course it is understood that in none of these cases were the hair roots dead nor had the scalp taken on a glazed, shiny appearance.

When the roots of the hair are entirely dead and the pores of the scalp are glazed over, we do not believe that anything can restore hair growth. When Rexall "93" Hair Tonic will do as above stated, it is not strange that we have such great faith in it, and that we claim it will prevent balness when used in time. It acts scientifically, destroying the germs which are usually responsible for baldness. It penetrates to the roots of the hair, stimulating and nourishing them. It is a most pleasant toilet necssity, is delicately perfumed and will not gum nor permanently stain the hair.

We want you to get a bottle of Rexall "93" Hair Tonic and use it as directed. If it does not relieve scalp irritation, remove dandruff, prevent the hair from falling out and promote an increased growth of hair and in every way give entire satisfaction, simply come back and tell us and without question or formality we will hand back to you every penny you paid us for it.

We lend our endorsement to Rexall "93" Hair Tonic and sell it on this guarantee, because we believe it is the best hair tonic ever discovered. It comes in two sizes, prices 50 cents and $1.00. Remember you can obtain it only at our store—The Rexall Store. John W. Carroll.

To Entertain a Bride.

There were busy times in a certain home, in a certain well known town. The carpets were all taken up; the curtains taken down; and every piece of furniture was set outside to air, and all the white clothes in the house were washed and ironed with care. At last this wholesale clean-up was finally perfected. Chi-Namel, used on every floor, the morning light reflected. And when we came to learn the truth, they were expecting soon, an only son and his lovely bride, who were on their honey-moon. A house once varnished with Chi-Namel is varnished for a lifetime—Chi-Namel is elastic—never cracks nor loses its transparency or brilliancy—all because it is a pure unadulterated varnish. All colors and all size packages. Sold by T. P. Grant. 17

This is a Charleroi woman's testimony.

Mrs. M. E. Richards, 616 Washingtongon avenue, Charleroi, Pa., says: "I gladly confirm all I said in my former statement given for publication in favor of Doan's Kidney Pills. Last summer I used several boxes of this ramedy, procured at Piper Bros.' Drug Store, when suffering from an atack of rheumatism and it promptly drove away my trouble. I have often recommended Doan's Kidney Pills and shall continue to do so."
